FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

Hon. George S. Nixon Announces Himself a Candidate for the Position.

The following appears in the Silver State of last Wednesday:
To the People of the State of Nevada and to Their Senators and Assemblymen of the Incoming Legislature:

Four years ago the people of this State, with great unanimity and unswerving honesty of purpose and from the highest patriotic motives, cut loose from their former political associations and organized an independent political movement to secure to themselves and the whole country a national financial policy commensurate with the business needs of the people—the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold, the policy of the fathers of our republic and which was embodied in our constitution.

Within four years the movement has grown to great magnitude and has received the support of over six millions of unbought and unpurchasable independent voters of the country. Although it suffered temporary defeat at the late election, by the most corrupt use of money on the part of the moneyed rings, combines and trusts, the battle is not finally lost, but must and will triumph.

Nevada took the lead in this great movement for monetary reform and will ever be found to the front in line of battle for the same cause. Other questions have confronted the people of this State, of vital importance to their dignity as well as of vital interest to the prosperity of this people, and still confront them, but have been held back and been overshadowed by the supreme effort of the people to secure the opening of the mints for the purposes for which they were established.

One of these questions is: Shall Nevada, in its federal relations, as well as in its local affairs, be represented by Nevadans, and not by non residents? We have, as a State, great interests to be developed, and every energy of its citizens, as well as its public servants, should be directed to that end.

Our United States Senators and Congressmen are in position to attract and to secure immigration and capital to this State, so as to increase our population and wealth and advance the general prosperity. To secure these ends it is of the utmost importance that this State shall be represented at Washington by actual, bona fide residents of the State, and whose interests are identified with its people. While I, in common with the people of this State and its associates in the Senate, and the friends of bimetalism everywhere, am happy to acknowledge that Senator John P. Jones is a statesman of transcendent ability, and has given to the free silver literature of both continents unsuperable arguments in favor of bimetalism and clear and elaborate discussions of the subject, so that all who read may understand, and the great cause advanced thereby, yet it is a well known fact that he for many years last past has ceased to be a resident of this State and has no common interest with us; that his home and family and household goods are at Santa Monica, California, and his great business interests are there. This is Nevada's misfortune, while, perhaps, it is his gain. However this may be, I am constrained to yield to the earnest solicitation of many of my fellow citizens in different parts of the State to announce myself as a candidate for the United States Senate before the next session of the Legislature, which I do with the assurance on my part that if elected my whole time, energy and whatever ability I may be able to command shall be in the Senate during its sessions and in Nevada during its vacations and devoted to promoting the varied industries of the people of this State.

While I cannot and do not consent in the opinion of many that a protective tariff, under the gold standard, can bring the relief the business interests of the people of the whole country demand, yet the American people, in the election of William McKinley, have declared that they want such a tariff, and if I am honored with a seat in the Senate my policy and aim shall be during the next four years to give the administration my aid, if necessary, in passing any such tariff as the gold standard advocates may propose. If it proves the panacea for our crying financial ills, I shall rejoice—if not, then the people will seek another remedy, and in my opinion that remedy will be the free and unlimited coinage of silver with gold.

The "purity of elections" law, which the people are determined to religiously enforce, places the highest office within the reach of the humblest citizen. This is another advanced step taken by the independent people of Nevada, and hence it has become my ambition, and it shall be my highest aim in life, to earnestly, truly and honestly represent Nevada in the Senate of the United States if I shall be selected for that high and honorable place.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE S. NIXON.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

January Storms.—The Temperature Will be Above Normal.
(Copyright, 1896, by W. T. Foster.)

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 24.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 27th to 31st.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific Coast about January 1st, cross the west of the Rockies by the close of the 2d, the Great Central Valleys from the 3d to 5th, and the Eastern States the 6th.

The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies about the January 1st, great central valleys 3d, Eastern States 5th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies about January 4th, great central valleys 6th, Eastern States the 8th.

This disturbance will come in the beginning of the high temperature storm period and while snows may be expected in the northern Rocky Mountain country not much precipitation will occur east of the Mississippi river. Immediately preceding this storm wave the weather will be colder than immediately following it.

The second disturbance of January will reach the Pacific coast about the 7th, cross the west of the Rockies country by the close of the 8th, Great Central valleys 9th to 11th, Eastern States the 12th.

A warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 7th, Great Central valleys the 9th, and the Eastern States the 11th. A cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 10th, Great Central valleys 12th and the Eastern States the 14th.

This disturbance will come in just before the high temperature storm period and the temperature will rise much higher than in the preceding disturbance.

The cool wave following will probably not go below the preceding cool wave, but the fall in temperature will be much greater and will therefore have greater effect. Precipitation will be light.

JANUARY, 1897, WEATHER.

As a general average the temperature of January will be above normal. In shorter periods it will run to extremes. Temperatures will reach the lowest points not far from the 2d and 29th and the highest not far from the 10th and 16th. The warmest part of the month will be near the 16th, coldest near the 29th. There will be severe storms about the 4th and 26th. These dates are fixed for the general north and south line of the Mississippi river and the weather changes will reach points farther west from one to three days earlier; east of that line as much later.

The best ice weather will occur near January 2d and 29th. Ice will not be unusually thick and ice men should make good use of all their opportunities to store the crystal blocks.

The temperature of the week ending January 2d will average below normal.

"THE WAIFS OF NEW YORK."
A Play That Has Withstood the Wear and Tear of Time.

Among the plays that have withstood the wear and tear of time and have increased rather than diminished in the estimation of the theatre-going public, "The Waifs of New York" seems to head the list. Other dramas may come, go and be forgotten, but Katie Emmett's well known play seems to defy time. It will be presented at the Opera House December 30th, and it is promised that new scenery, new specialties and many novelties will be introduced. Miss Emmett will have the support of a company that is said to be better than any she has heretofore had, and the old familiar scenes, it is declared, will have new interest added by the manner in which they are done.

A Good Improvement.

The Water Co. has a large force of men at work laying a large 22 inch receiving main from the Highlands ditch to the main reservoir, a distance of 1,700 feet. This is a work long contemplated and will enable a much larger supply to be thrown quickly into the reservoirs in Summer time as well as in Winter, and especially during the Winter season will it be of great advantage in preventing bursting boxes and overflow caused by freezing weather. The present work will cost several thousand dollars. Next Spring it is the intention to continue the 22 inch pipe from the main reservoir to the company's University reservoir, a distance of over 3,000 feet, thereby enabling high pressure to be maintained over the town at all times, while either set of reservoirs are being cleaned.

Thyres will serve a grand Christmas lunch to-day. There will be roast turkey and cranberry sauce and other appetizing side dishes. Mott's sweet eastern cider, eggnog, Tom and Jerry, A B C beer and all of the latest fancy and mixed drinks known to the trade. Call on Thyres to-day and take an eggnog with the firm.

The Appeal says when Charles Jones was called to plead in the District Court he deannured to the indictment on the ground that the Court has no jurisdiction, the assault having been committed on land owned by the United States. The Court took the matter under advisement and the case went over until January 4th.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

Preparations for a Merry and Happy Holiday Season.

Yesterday was a busy day for all Reno. The stores were filled with customers and the business streets of the town were crowded with hurrying people, some with smiling faces and an armful of packages, while others had a worried expression, doubtless caused by trying to figure out what to give this one and what would be suitable for another. Now and then a person would be noticed whose sad eyes gazed wistfully into some big show window and read the prices marked on various articles. Suddenly a sigh, almost a sob, would be heard and the person would turn and hurry up or down the street. The cause of this can only be surmised, but no doubt many a heart was overflowing with good will to loved ones, but the scanty purse would not permit.

The various churches held Christmas exercises and concluded with a treat for the Sunday School pupils and in each instance the churches were crowded.

The boys of Company C were rushing about all day gathering in the promised donations for the poor and arranging for the distribution to deserving people. The boys deserve great praise for this movement and many a poor soul who could have fared poorly had it not been for them will have reason to thank Company C.

A Handsome Calendar.
Among all the calendars that flood the mails at this season there is none that suits us so well as that issued by N. W. Ayer & Son, the newspaper advertising agents of Philadelphia, a copy of which the JOURNAL has just received. The figures on it are large enough to be read without spectacles, and its handsome appearance makes it worthy of a place in the best furnished office or library, while it is business-like all the way through. The publishers state that the demand for this calendar has always exceeded the supply. This led them years ago to place upon it a nominal price—25 cents, on receipt of which it is sent, postpaid and securely packed, to any address.

The Teacher's Institute.
The Superintendent of Public Instruction writes that Mr. T. F. Donella, train master at Wadsworth, has arranged to have a good comfortable coach leave Reno Sunday morning for the accommodation of the teachers going to the institute at Elko. An interesting and instructive program has been arranged and the teachers and citizens of Elko have made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visiting teachers.

The Valdemar Society.
The Valdemar (Danish) Society gave a Christmas tree and dance last evening at their lodge room. The wives and lady friends of the members were present and the children were especially provided for. The festivities were kept up till an early hour this morning and the last good nights were embellished by a "Merry Christmas to all."

The Ideal Panacea.
James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found any thing so beneficial, or that gave such a speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Diphtheria Cure.
The testimony of a prominent physician:
FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895.
This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice, I have never found any medical preparation in 46 years of practice that is calculated to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out.

A SLIGHT INTERRUPTION.

Incident of a Reporter's Visit to a Fire

Engine House.

A reporter who had sought at a new engine house information on a point concerning which the driver could best inform him stood talking with the driver by the stall of one of the horses.
The horse was secured by a tie strap commonly used in the department. One end of the tie strap is made fast by a staple driven into the side of the stall, while the other end is passed through the throat latch of the horse's bridle and held on a pin that rises in a little recess in the side of the stall. By means of a simple mechanical contrivance the pin is pulled down at the first stroke of the gong when an alarm is sounded, the tie strap is released, and the horse is set free. As the driver and the reporter talked, the horse, in a friendly sort of way, bent his head down toward the driver.

Suddenly an alarm was sounded, and the horse was transformed, and likewise the driver. The horse's head went up, and he was alert in every fiber. At the first stroke the pin had dropped, and the horse was free. With a single bound he cleared the stall and made for his place by the engine, with the driver beside him. The other two horses of the team—this was a three horse team—were clattering forward at the same moment. At the front of the house men were sliding down poles like lightning.
There were a few sharp, quick, snapping sounds, as the men already there snapped the collars together around the horses' necks, and over it all the hom-ing of the gong.

In all the newer firehouses of the city the stalls of the horses are placed as nearly as possible abreast of the engine, so that the horses shall have the shortest possible distance to go. In some of the older houses, in which there is less room, the stalls are at the rear. That is where they were in this house.
Surprised a little, the reporter had just a second or two in getting to the front. When he got there, he saw the driver in his best holding the lines over the team ready to drive out and waiting only for the last stroke of the gong.
All fire teams are hooked up on every alarm. On first alarm they go out only to fire within their own district. This alarm was for a fire outside the district.
Unhooked, the horses trotted back to their stalls. Descending from his seat, the driver took up the interrupted conversation just as if nothing had happened.—New York Sun.

His First Story.
A certain author, now well known to fame and fortune, once in the "battle for bread," wrote a wild Indian story for a northern story paper. That was 12 years ago, and to the story he gave his real name. He received a fat check for it, but year after year went by—and the story never appeared. It finally passed from his remembrance, until the other day, when he received a letter from the publishers informing him that it would shortly put in an appearance in serial form. That made the author nervous, and he forthwith sent the following telegram:

"Suppress story and return manuscript and will pay three times amount of original check."
The publishers replied:
"Can't do it. We know a good thing when we have it. The story is in your best vein."

Letter after letter, telegram after telegram passed, but no, he didn't have money enough to buy that story. So he has written to all his friends and critics and has explained the circumstances and now awaits as cheerfully as possible the weekly slaughter of the red Indians of his youthful brain.
